‘BEFORE I DIE’ BOARD SEEKS NEW SENTENCE STEM FROM COMMUNITY

West Lafayette, Ind. – October 14, 2013 – The cities of West Lafayette and Lafayette are preparing the Before I Die boards for new chalk comments next spring and would like community input for new sentence stems to replace the current “Before I Die...” moniker.

Examples of other stems include, “When I was little I wanted to be...,” or “I dream of...” The sentence stem should retain integrity for a diverse range of people to publicly use and should provoke thought and inquiry into everyday life.

Submissions can be sent to representatives in either Lafayette or West Lafayette by contacting the West Lafayette Public Arts Team on Facebook @

The current wall in West Lafayette, located at Rubia Flower Market, will be overlaid with a newly-painted board. Purdue Galleries’ ArtCart will set up an event where community participants can participate in painting the board at the Sagamore West Farmers Market on October 16, from 3-5:30 p.m. The market is located in Cumberland Park off N. Salisbury Street.
